Services Provided

The Marine Corps Wounded Warrior Regiment provides and facilitates non-medical care to combat and non-combat Wounded, Ill, and Injured (WII) Marines, and Sailors attached to or in direct support of Marine units, and their family members in order to assist them as they return to duty or transition to civilian life.

There is no "one size fits all" response to warrior care. The WWR has evolved its structure to ensure that WII Marines and families receive individualized care, proportionate to their existing needs. The Regiment achieves this individualized care by synergizing its diverse assets and support around the essential point of focus: the mind, body, spirit, and family of the WII Marine.
